MEETING OF THE BUSINESS WOMAN'S CLUB

Last night was the first meeting of the business and professional women's club since its disbandment for a two month's vacation and is opened with a good attendance.

There were quite a few names presented for membership. An invitation committee was appointed and this committee will make it lively for the new members.

At the next meeting, the second Tuesday in November, the club will be made cozy with its furnishings and it is sincerely hoped that every member will be present.

Miss Winnie Hunt, the president, presided and in her usual pleasant manner gave a short talk, which was most entertaining.

MRS. R. S. HALL HONORS MISS HARRISS

Mrs. R. S. Hall was the hostess yesterday afternoon to an enjoyable theater party, which she gave in honor of Miss Carolina Harriss. This affair included only the wedding party of the Martin-Harriss wedding, but like all the other entertainments for Miss Harriss was quite delightful.

After witnessing the pictures, Mrs. Hall and her guests repaired to the Court Pharmacy, where refreshments of ice cream and cake were served. Those present were Misses Caroline Harriss, Mary Martin of Charleston, Claire Stringfellow of Jacksonville, Elizabeth Davis, Nettie Camp and Mrs. Mitchell Tucker.

DANCE IN HONOR OF MISS HARRISS

The dance Tuesday evening with which Mr. and Mrs. Alison Wartmann complimented Miss Carolina Harriss, whose marriage to Mr. Edmund Howard Martin takes place tomorrow evening, was the opening dance of the season and one of the most brilliant at home dances ever given in the city.

The Wartmann home, which is admirably adapted for such entertainments, was brilliantly lighted and the many different colored shades which adorned floor and table lamps, together with quantities of dahlias, chrysanthemums and love vine used in the decorations, afforded a most attractive setting for the gorgeous and colorful costumes of the guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Wartmann, Miss Harriss and Miss Mary Martin of Charleston, S. C., received very informally in the large reception hall. In the dining room, which was elaborately decorated with large baskets of chrysanthemums, punch was served by Mrs. Grider Perkins and Mrs. Frederick Hocker.

A victrola furnished music throughout the evening. During the dancing a few guests at a time enjoyed refreshments of ice cream and cake in the dining room. Snappers containing a verse of fortune were placed on each plate for the guests and afforded much merriment. During the latter part of the evening the throwing of confetti proved a pleasant diversion.

This dancing party was indeed one of the very loveliest attentions that has been given for Miss Harriss, who was exceedingly pretty and vivacious last evening, an exquisite green embroidered evening gown of georgette crepe combined with satin to match.

Those present will always remember Mr. and Mrs. Wartmann as ideal host and hostess, for their dance was one of the most congenial informal affairs ever attended in the city.
